The National Taxpayer Advocate Wants to Hear from You: Olson to Hold Public Forum on Taxpayer Service Needs in Hendersonville, N.C., on April 4

IR-2016-49, March 28, 2016

WASHINGTON — National Taxpayer Advocate Nina E. Olson and Rep. Mark Meadows, chairman of the House Oversight and Government Reform Subcommittee on Government Operations, will hold a public forum to discuss what taxpayers want and need from the IRS to comply with their tax obligations.

The public forum will be held Monday, April 4, at 5:30 pm at the Henderson County King Street Meeting Room. Members of the public and the media are invited to attend.

Building on initiatives already implemented, the IRS for the past two years has been developing a “Future State” plan that envisions how it will operate in five years and beyond. It is continuing to develop a path for how it gets from its “Current State” to the “Future State,” including refinements to the vision along the way. A central component of the plan is the creation of online taxpayer accounts as a convenient but non-exclusive channel through which taxpayers will be able to obtain information from and interact with the IRS.

In the National Taxpayer Advocate’s 2015 Annual Report to Congress, Ms. Olson expressed concerns about whether the IRS’s “Future State” plan adequately addresses taxpayer needs. She recommended the IRS solicit comments from taxpayers and tax professionals regarding the “Future State” plan, including their thoughts on the extent to which taxpayers will continue to need telephone and in-person assistance. To further public awareness and dialogue, she announced plans to hold a series of public forums around the country. The objective of the public forums is to ensure the “Future State” plan will better reflect the needs and preferences of U.S. taxpayers as they seek to comply with the tax code.

The April 4 public forum will feature an invited panel of representatives from the local area, including:

Rollin J. Groseclose
CPA, CGMA, Shareholder

Bob Smith
Volunteer Coordinator
AARP Tax Aide – Henderson County

Arthur Bartlett
Program Director/ Attorney
LITC Legal Services of Southern Piedmont

Members of the public will also have an opportunity to speak.

Ms. Olson will conduct the hearing in collaboration with Rep. Meadows, who represents North Carolina's 11th congressional district in the U.S. House of Representatives. Rep. Meadows' subcommittee works to ensure that the American people have access to critical information about the operations of their government.

Local Taxpayer Advocate Service (TAS) staff will be available to talk with attendees about unresolved tax issues and help determine if their situation qualifies for TAS assistance. TAS generally is unable to assist taxpayers with return preparation questions, but can provide assistance to taxpayers who have already filed their returns with the IRS for the current or past years and are experiencing problems that meet its case-acceptance criteria.

The public forum will take place in the Henderson County King Street Meeting Room 100 North King Street, Hendersonville, NC 28792.
